Giving Youth the Tools for Future Success

As part of The Children's Trust's Innovation Fund, the Budding Entrepreneurs program at The Underline gave youth the opportunity to create and run their own small businesses.

"I learned the fundamental skills you need in the business world when you are starting a venture or in any job – how to manage your time, create connections with customers in the workplace and be the most efficient you can in the workplace... Always keep a smile on your face and come to work with great energy. There are so many opportunities to tackle out there."

Malik Rolle, 18, who operated a snow cone shop, Ice Cold Youth.
